

Trauma, Substance Use & the Brain

Join us for an exclusive webinar!

OBJECTIVES

During this session, we will review the relationship between SUD and trauma and how Trauma Informed Care (TIC) can increase engagement in services, then walk through scenarios for applying a TIC lens across stages of care at the intrapersonal, interpersonal, and organizational levels.

Register here!

Dr. Mandy Davis is a Professor of Practice at Portland State University's School of Social Work and a licensed clinical social worker. She is Director of Trauma Informed Oregon, a statewide program advancing trauma-informed care across organizations and systems through training, consultation, and implementation resources. Dr. Davis also teaches and lectures nationally and internationally on implementing trauma-informed care and trauma-specific services. Her current interests include systems change through trauma-informed practice, measuring change as organizations and systems implement trauma-informed care principles, and the impact of toxic stress on the workforce. Her most recent publication, co-authored with Dr. Karen Treisman, is Navigating the Journey to Trauma-Informed Organizational Change: 40 Real-World Questions, Dilemmas and Strategies.

OUR SPEAKER

21ST
SEPT
2026

12:00
-
1:00
PM

PST

COST

$FREE